Area Roundup
Cloud Seeders Claim Rain

Air Force cloud seeders have claimed credit for the June 21 afternoon rains which fell in this area and most of Central Texas in varying amounts. The specially equipped WC130 planes fired silver iodide flares into clouds about 30 miles west of Austin. Everybody got a little rain -- from 1/4 inch to 5 inches.

Remodeling For Grade School

removed and the area will be termed the "Media Center" where students will be taught their various subjects on an individual basis.

Water System Well Complete

Directors of the Southwest Milam Water Corp., a 15-community rural water system surrounding Rockdale, met Monday and accepted the system's new well as completed. B. B.

McAnulty, president of the corporation, said the contracts call for 430 gallon-per-minute well and experimental pumping has gone as high as 700 gallons a minute.

Rockdale Lauds LL Leader

"Rockdale should consider Bill Alford 10 feet tall," the Rockdale Reporter said. Alford's leadership is credited for ramrodding to completion the Rockdale Little League's new complex of four playing fields -- two of them lighted and all of them chain-link fenced. Total investment at the site, Alford estimates, is at least $30,000, including materials, equipment and man-hours donated.

Group Cancels Trip

Four from Cameron who had made tentative plans to join Texas Civic leaders on a trip to Europe to urge better treatment and early release of American prisoners of war in North Vietnam, were notified that the trip had been canceled. Ben Barnes, chairman of the proposed journey said "we can get no indication from North Vietnamese officials that they will receive us in Paris."

Former State Rep. Milton Schiller, students Kathryn Kahler and John Ben Sutter and Miss Susan Rosson had all made temporary plans to join about 1,000 Texas civic leaders August 1 on a 6 day visit to Paris, Stockholm and Moscow. Miss Kahler, Sutter and Miss Rosson had been active in efforts by the Yoe High Chapter of National Honor Society to urge Milam County participation in a letter writing campaign asking better treatment of war prisoners.

Barnes said "The Soviet Union has rejected our request to visit Moscow for this purpose. Because of the magnitude of the preparations necessary for a successful trip and the fact that July 1 is the deadline for canceling accommodations in Europe without losing deposit fees, it is impractical to go through without plans for an August flight."

He said North Vietnamese officials in Paris had refused to meet similar groups "and they have given no evidence that they will treat us any differently."

When news of the cancellation came arrangements were being made to start a fund for trip expenses for Miss Kahler and Sutter. Most of the 1,000 planning to make the trip were either traveling at their own expense or on funds raised in their communities.

The idea for the trip was conceived last February by H. Ross Perot of Dallas who challenged Texans to join the move to pressure Hanoi into releasing prisoners.

Tax Refund To
City Is $13,965

The City of Cameron received nearly $14,000 from the one percent city sales tax for the first quarter of 1971, according to J. B. Fuller, City secretary.

The $13,965.46 paid the city for the three-month period that ended March 31 was about $1,000 more than Cameron received for the same period of 1970.

It was a smaller amount, however, than the last quarterly payment for the final three months of 1970 including the Christmas shopping season. That totaled $15,934.60, the most the city had gained from the tax.

Family Sees 4 College Grads In One Summer

Four college degrees in one family is of note - four in one short summer must be catalogued as spectacular. But the Harmon Kellys of Cameron take it in stride that:

Harmon W. Kelley received his doctor of medicine degree from the University of Texas Medical School in May; Danny Roy Kelley received a masters degree in music from Peabody Conservatory, Baltimore, Md., the same week; Constance Kelley Ward is a candidate for a masters degree in music education from Prairie View A&M in August;

And David Kelley is a candidate for a bachelor of arts degree from Prairie View A&M in August.

It has been a long stretch for the Kellys. Since Constance graduated from O. J. Thomas in 1961 there has always been at least one child in college and they aren't through yet. Wayne Kelley (best known as bass guitarist in the Funkadelics) is a senior at Yoe High School and will follow his sister and brothers on the college route.

Kelley Sr. has been employed by Alcoa for the past 18 years. Before that he worked for the late Dr. Leland Denison. Young Harmon often accompanied his father to the doctor's clinic and this began his interest in a career in medicine.

He graduated Valedictorian from O. J. Thomas in 1963, went on to Prairie View A&M and then with the help of scholarships, fellowships and a wife who teaches school, completed medical training at the University of Texas Medical School, Galveston. With an MD behind his name and Captain in front he reports for Army service in El Paso this week. He plans residence for specialty in obstetrics and gynecology. For Constance and Danny Roy music was a natural following. Their mother, a former teacher, loved to sing in her fathers church choir (he is pastor of Cameron's Bethel AME Church. "They were brought up around music," Mrs. Kelley said.

Constance combined her talent with a life long desire to teach. She graduated third in her class from O. J. Thomas, went on to earn a bachelor degree from Prairie View A&M and has taught public school music for six years, the last three in Freeport, Texas. Work on her masters degree has taken up most of her summers for the past three years.

Danny is remembered by many as the little boy who played the piano before his feet could reach the pedals and his hands barely reached the key board. "I have always liked to perform" Danny said this week. "My hope is to get a doctorate degree and then be an artist in residence at a college or music conservatory."

His early music training was from Mrs. Frances Cox and he proved a worthy student. Four years in the music department at Prairie View and a year on scholarship at Peabody have broadened his repertoire to range from popular musical scores to the classics. After a summer of music research at Prairie View and marriage in September the army will determine if he can accept an offer for a concert with the Houston Symphony.

David is weighing job offers as an accountant after August graduation at Prairie View when he will be armed with a bachelor degree in business administration. Long range plans are for a career in real estate "away from the dust

Creek Project
Goes To Senate

The Senate Public Works Committee has given final approval to the Pond Creek Watershed Project, passing the measure on to the full Senate, Sen. John Tower of Texas said, Friday.

This action clears the way for the project construction to begin, a spokesman from Sen. Tower's office said.

Passage of the watershed project will free about 2.3 million in funds from the United States Department of Agriculture.

The estimated total cost of the project is 4 1/2 million dollars with the balance to be made up in local funds.

The project calls for 22 flood water retarding structures, 166,825 feet of stream channel improvements and 9 grade stabilization structures.

It is expected that operators on 258 farms in Bell, Falls, and Milam, on the flood plain and about 27 upland farmers would directly benefit from the watershed project.

Northeast Milam
Gains Two Wells

By Lloyd Albertson

The northeast corner of Milam County, where there has been no drilling activity in recent years, had two wildcats scheduled late last week.

The two wildcats, both permitted to 1,900 feet, were scheduled by Lenoir Josey, Inc., of Houston. They are located in the Baileyville area and only a couple of miles off the Falls and Robertson County lines.

The wildcats will be three or four miles southeast of Rosebud.

They will be Josey's No. 1 R. W. Ellison and his No. 1 G. Gerdes.

Location of the No. 1 Ellison is on a 100 acre lease in Levi Taylor Survey. Drillsite will be 467 feet northeast of Hog Creek, which is the southwest line of the lease. A number of dry holes were drilled on this acreage some years ago, and also one oilwell, drilled by Houston - Oklahoma Oil Company which was the discovery well for the Baileyville Field and produced about 500 barrels for the company in 1952 - 1953. Production was from the Navarro around 700 feet depth.

Josey's other wildcat, the No. 1 Gerdes, will be a mile south of the Ellison. It is located on a 866 acre lease in Gilbert Cribbs Survey. Drillsite will be about a mile southeast of FM Road 2027.

That area of Milam County has had little or no drilling activity in recent years. Last year, however, Sanyo Investments had a leasing campaign in the area and leased up a sizeable block of acreage.

Houston-Oklahoma Oil Company, with headquarters in Houston, apparently did little more drilling following its discovery well in 1952 - 53 there. Instead, it moved into the Griffin Chapel area about three miles east of Minerva, where it drilled nine or ten producing wells on the Dr. E. H. O'Neal acreage about 1954 - 55. Subsequently the company sold out its interests and is no longer active in the county.

CTCOG Receives
Funding For Aging Project

The Central Texas Council of Governments received word from Gov. Preston Smith's Committee on Aging that the Central Texas Focus on Aging project has been approved for a second year of funding under Title III of the Older Americans Act of 1965.

This second year funding is for $15,866 and is to be matched by $10,725 of CTCOG funds.

The CTCOG, the first area-wide organization to receive such a grant, includes Bell, Coryell, Hamilton, Lampasas, Milam and Mills counties with a total population of 200,555 of which 19,446 are 65 years and over, according to the 1970 census.

Specifically, project objectives are:

1. To involve older people in community life and affairs so that they may increase their contribution thereto and and enjoy the satisfaction of being contributing members of society.
2. To concentrate on some of the problems facing the elderly in this six-county area and to stimulate and assist older people to work out solutions to these problems.
3. To increase community awareness of both the needs and the potentialities of older people.
4. To facilitate the exchange of information about and among the elderly concerning programs and resources available to them at all levels of governments operating within the Central Texas Planning Region.

Once Is Enough?...

A most flattering letter from Rep. Lane Denton, McLennan County state representative, came to this office this week.

Its comment refers to a column of June 3 in which your Herald's 112 commented on the leadership of the Texas House during the recent session.

If memory serves, Rep. Denton is a member of the "Dirty 30" which opposed House Speaker Gus Mutscher's control of the House during the past session. So is Rep. Dan Kubiak, who like Rep. Denton, is now without a recognizable district.

It is fair to point out that redistricting procedures signed by the Governor, but yet to be tested in the Courts, has infuriated the Legislature and great numbers of the people of the state.

One daily pointed out that House members "are standing in line" to announce for Speaker in the 1972-73 House session. Several already have.

Whatever, the repercussions commented on by the 112 column of June 3 apparently find audience in wide areas of the state, particularly from those who opposed oppressive committee control, closed-door sessions of House-Senate joint committees and pork barrelling within those closed-door sessions.

We don't know Rep. Denton. As far as we know, he has read us only this once. But, maybe, like the stance of the "Dirty 30" on issues of good government in the Texas House this spring, once is enough.

WHAT OTHERS SAY ...

That Expensive 'Shaggy' Look

The "system" or "establishment" isn't as fuddy-duddy as some young people like to think it is. It has found a way to make a profit from the fads of those trying to break away from "straight" orthodoxy by creating their own conformity.

The Wall Street Journal has just taken a long look at the fads moving many young people. Take the long haired shaggy young fellow walking down the street. He may be a legitimate street person. But the chances are, the study shows, that he is one of thousands who spend $7.50 to get their hair cut to look just the unkempt way they want it. And he uses expensive spray to keep it in place.

Take the young fellow with the faded, tattered jeans. They may be brand new -- products of companies like Blue Bell, Inc., whose engineers developed a machine that makes jeans that way -- for $2 more than a new looking pair costs. Companies are selling denim clothing with patches put on at the factory. Heavy work shoes and run down sandals are being sold, brand new, to look as though they have been worn for months. Air Force jackets from Army surplus stores at $60 each -- with floppy hoods -- were the "in" thing last year. Now they are being manufactured and sold at $40 each, new but looking old and of much poorer quality than the originals.

The manufacturers, the Wall Street Journal points out, have turned "what seems like youthful antimaterialism into a major component of what they call 'the youth market.'" The hippie you see may be ersatz.

The Milwaukee Journal

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

On the well-established principle I guess that Washington should leave you alone when you're doing well and bail you out when you're doing bad, the country's biggest railroad, biggest plane manufacturer, and biggest cities have been hollering for financial help from Congress running well up into the billions of dollars.

But it's the situation with the cities that interests me this week. One problem at a time. According to a newspaper article I read last night, the mayors of some of the nation's biggest metropolises are frankly saying their cities face bankruptcy if Washington doesn't furnish them billions of dollars before the summer's over.

I don't know anything about such high finance, although I suspect that when a city needs that kind of money to keep from going busted, it's already busted, but the question I'm working on is, what happens when a city does go bankrupt?

Who takes it over? What does he do with it when he does? Hold a garage sale and hope some other cities come over and buy whatever parts they need?

This is a problem not enough thought is being given to. Doesn't the Pentagon have contingency plans for such an eventuality? Doesn't the New York Times have a copy?

Now I know that when farmers, who used to make up over 50 per cent of the population, started going broke, the experts said oh, they're just marginal farmers, let them go under and get a job somewhere else, and today only 8 per cent of the population are farmers.

You suppose they'll now say oh, these busted cities are just marginal cities, inefficiently operated, let them go under and do something else?

All right, suppose that happens, and cities start dwindling to where only 8 per cent of the population lives there.

That's 8 per cent in the country, 8 per cent in the city. Where in the world are the other 84 per cent?

I'm sorry I brought the matter up.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Americans Believe Poor Responsible For Plight

By Peter Moseley
Reuter Correspondent

AUSTIN not to blame, according to a nationwide survey. The majority of those questioned said they felt the main causes of poverty involve such personal shortcomings as laziness, lack of thrift, loose morals and drunkenness. Dr. Joseph R. Feagin, associate professor of sociology at The University of Texas, conducted the survey on "American attitudes toward poverty and anti-poverty programs" under a grant from the National Institute of Mental Health. The project took two years and involved more than 1,000 interviews.

While the traditional American folk-hero has been the self-made rags-to-riches man, Feagin said, "I would argue that as deeply ingrained into the American system is the belief in a folk-villain, the self-made poor man, lazy, immoral and irresponsible. Major improvements in the economic structure of the American system, it seems evident, must await a further shift in basic American attitudes and values," he added. "The poor can expect the reluctant, piecemeal, snail-like pace of change to continue until this shift occurs."

The survey found that 84 per cent of those questioned thought "there are too many people receiving welfare money who should be working"; 71 per cent considered "many people getting welfare money are not honest about their need"; 61 per cent believed "many women getting welfare money are having illegitimate babies to increase the money they get."

Feagin said his data showed that persons convinced that poverty resulted from character defects were likely to be white Protestants or Catholics living in the south or north central regions, aged 50 or over with middle-income and middle-educational status. On the other hand, persons believing that poverty has roots in society failures tended to be non-white Protestants or Jews, aged 30 or younger, poor, and less well educated. Many of these cited poverty factors such as low wages, inadequate schooling, job scarcity, racial discrimination and exploitation by the rich. Feagin has presented his findings at specialized meetings and plans to publish them soon.

July-September Designated As Texas Home Months. July, August and September have been designated "Keep Texas Beautiful" months by Governor Preston Smith following the passage of a Texas Senate and House Concurrent Resolution passed unanimously during the recently concluded 62nd Legislature.

The important part which the "home" has played in Texas' history, and which it will play in the future of the state. "The 'home' has traditionally been the cornerstone of the American way of life, and is today ever present as a symbol of solidarity and continuity in this rapidly changing state, therefore it is fitting and proper that the 'home' be recognized in this manner," said J. L. Foxworth, president of the Lumbermen's Association of Texas. The Washington Monument was dedicated on February 21, 1885.

BUSINESS REVIEW

Drugs By The Department Is The Story At Dusek's

When you say drug store, you mean drug department store at Dusek's. When you say pharmacy, you mean three registered pharmacists—Alvin and son Bernay, and Franklin Dusek.

A walk through Dusek's is a walk through a departmentalized listing of cosmetic, pharmaceutical and gift notion "who's who." Dusek's has it. Several ladies are kept busy serving the customers who find what they want.

Just a sampling of what brands are available: Timex watches, Westclox, clocks, Parke-Davis first aid notions, Sheaffer's pens, BIC pens, foster grant sunglasses, Russell Stover and King's chocolates.

Cosmetics, both men's and women's, headline shelves of name brands like: Black Belt, Max Factor, Old Spice, Tussy, Coty's elan, L'Zimant, Imprevu, Emeraude, Revlon, Ogilvie, Jergens, Noxzema, Gillette, Vaseline, Aqua Velva to name a few of the quite-a-few.

Pharmacists Alvin, Franklin and Bernay stay busy. One clerk helps type orders as the prescriptions are filled by the professionals. Lines of shelves in walls of pharmaceuticals await the need of a doctor's prescription, whatever the ill.

Delivery is to the home, without additional cost, the day you need the prescription. The pharmacy is as professional as gifts and drugs throughout the store are complete.

The usual line of tobacco products, cigars, cigarettes, pipes, pipe tobacco are near the entrance for convenience. Magazines, newspapers, comics and pocketbooks are available. Christmas and remembrance cards for all occasions by Ambassador and RustCraft await.

Personal articles are also near the front, neatly arranged and gift items like Sunbeam appliances are nearby. Gift items like ashtrays, kitchen bric-a-brac, personal items and notions of all kinds are there. Yes, Dusek's has it. Only in recent years, the operation expanded into a wider store and the pharmacy department and storage areas were completely remodeled.

An inventory of brandnames and professional pharmacy services are the name of the game. That's why Dusek's has it for pharmaceuticals and departmentalized drugs and notions.

Andersons'-Cameron's Television And Appliance Center

Anderson's of Cameron, television and appliance center, looks ahead.

With franchises like Friedrich, Chrysler air conditioners, Maytag and GE appliances, RCA television sets, Zenith products, it pays the Milam area customer to look ahead in TV, air conditioning and appliance future with them.

Anderson's stock includes a complete line of home and auto tape players, stereo 8 track tapes, gas and electric heaters, water coolers, small appliances, radios and beautiful color television sets.

The service department is one of the keys to Anderson's growth in his present location at 122 North Houston.

Owner Joe Anderson heads the service department assisted by Bill Baggarly on television technology and Manuel Mendez, "the all-round serviceman."

Anderson and his service personnel keep in touch with the latest techniques by attending service schools given by manufacturers. And these men read bulletins published by various manufacturers, and not just those sold in the retail section of the store.

The Andersons operated a Jeep auto franchise until 1952, when they entered the TV business. Having difficulty getting a set serviced at home, Anderson started his own operation.

The store has expanded in at least two locations during the past 18 years to the modern layout of 1971 merchandise at 122 Houston.

Anderson's dripped "TV" from their business name when they relocated two and one-half years ago.

A comfortable seating area is available to customers in the TV and stereo departments allowing full view and audience to the array of TV and stereo equipment in the store.

With Anderson's investment in modern TV, air conditioning and appliance inventory, it is easy to see they have confidence in Cameron and Milam County's future.

Bullfighting Makes Comeback In Spain

By Jim Odgers
Reuter Correspondent

MADRID Bullfighting, long-lamented as a dying art, appears to be making an aesthetic and financial comeback this year.

The annual 17-day bullfight marathon of San Isidro here in May provided a striking demonstration of the sport's drawing power in the 1970's. Fans thronged in despite high-priced tickets, drenching rain and cold.

Although Spaniards say the sun is as important to the sport as the bull or the torero (bullfighter), local people and tourists alike jammed the Las Ventas ring and sat shivering under dripping umbrellas to watch the world's most famous bullfighters perform.

On the second last day of the festival held in honour of Madrid's patron saint, the scalpers had an especially profitable day. Cheap tickets of 1.44 dollars sold for seven times that amount, and 15 minutes before the fight started there was not a ticket left, with both the official ticket office and the scalpers sold out.

It is not only the spectacular tricks of the famous El Cordobes (Manuel Benitez) -- whose antics include "boxing" -- "leap-frogging" the bulls, and fighting without shoes -- that fill the stadium.

El Cordobes, who has enraged the purists of this centuries-old spectator sport, draws crowds, especially tourists. But so does the elegant Paco Camino, regarded by many connoisseurs as the finest bullfighter in the world.

Camino, who fights in the Seville style, has been acclaimed by critics as the man who has done most to revive the beauty and style of the classical corrida against strong bulls.

When Camino fights, especially against bulls from some of the top ranches, such as the Pablo Romero and the Miuras, the stands are certain to be filled.

One reason for bullfighting's renewed impetus is the emergence from retirement of great bullfighters of the 1940's and 1950's.

They are Antonio Bienvenida -- a contemporary of the great Manolete, who fought with distinction at this year's San Isidro festival -- Antonio Ordonez, and Luis Miguel Dominguez.

Ordonez fought in Spain last season and appeared in the San Isidro Marathon this year. Dominguez enters the bullring again early this summer after retiring in 1961 to raise fighting bulls in southern Spain.

Meanwhile the dispute over purity of style continues. The tricks of bullfighters like El Cordobes or the young Palomo Linares draw crowds and keep the promoters happy.

THE 'TWEETIES' are up to bat in this shot of the girls softball action Thursday evening. The teams play Mondays and Thurs-

A TENSE MOMENT for the 'Tweeties' as the 'Red Pokey' pitcher winds one up. Home-made refreshments are served at the games, but spectators must bring their own seats. The Pokeys won this game 20-16. Staff photo by Danny Robbins.

Rebels Nip Astros

Pony League action last Wednesday saw the Cameron Rebels down the Hearne Astros 10-9.

The Rebels put down an Astro rally in the top of the last inning to take the one run win. Winning pitcher Richard Scott went the distance and also led Rebel batters with a double. Others picking up valuable hits for the Rebels were Gene Kopriva and David Hollas.

ML White Sox Down Giants

White Sox batters connected on four home runs to boost their score to a 26-7 win over the Minor League Giants Thursday night.

The White Sox scored two runs in the first and added 12 more, four on a home run by Steve Vrazel, in the second. The Giants put 7 runs on the score board in the bottom of the second. Giants catcher Jason Raymond brought in four of the scores when he hit a home run with the bases loaded.

The White Sox added 12 more runs in the third with home runs by Steve Vrazel, James Mondrik and Timmy Mitchan.

Winning pitchers were James Mondrik and Steve Vrazel. Robert Murphy and Lloyd Hollister pitched for the Giants.
